Manager Comment

Equity markets faced several headwinds in April, including the so-called Liberation Day reciprocal tariffs, weakening economic data from the US and China and divergence in policy between the Fed and ECB. Volatility spiked in April with the S&P 500 Index down more than 11% at one point for the month, only to rally into the end of the month supported by Technology sector earnings. Ultimately, the S&P and Dow Jones ended the month lower while the Nasdaq Composite recorded a gain. Treasury yields were mixed during the month with the 2-year note yield falling while the 30-year bond rate rose. Oil prices tumbled and gold retreated from record highs in April but posted a monthly gain. The US dollar continued its yearly decline.

The Castlestone FAANG+ UCITS fund posted positive returns in April and outperformed the S&P 500 Index. No changes were made to the portfolio during the month. FAANG+'s best performing stock in April was CrowdStrike.
